

MC-40

Classic Series Microphone Stand with Three-way Adjustable Boom Arm and Stable Tripod Base

Three-way Adjustable Boom Arm

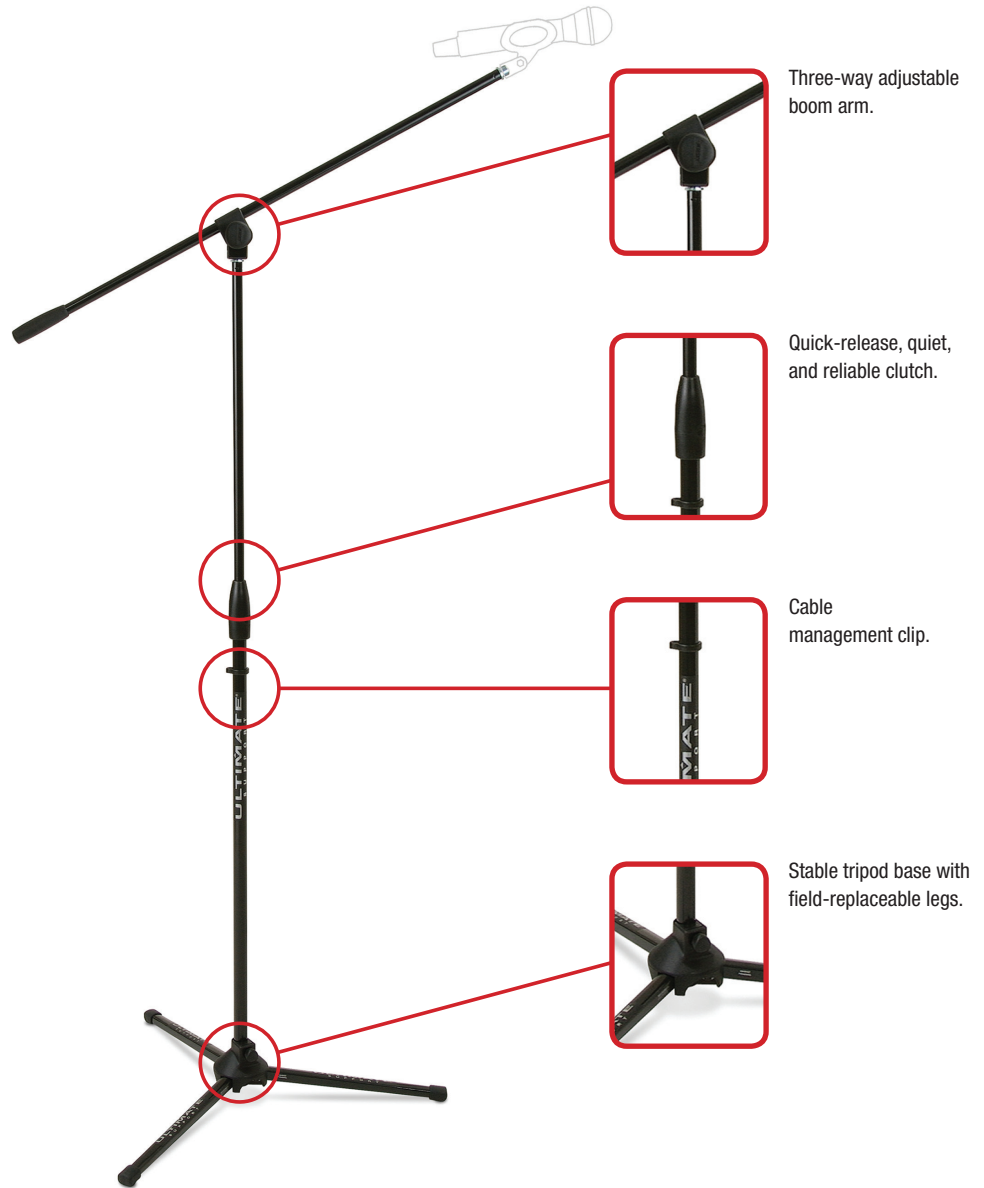

The MC-40 features an innovative, quick-to-adjust boom arm that could not be easier to use. With just one knob you can adjust the angle of the boom arm at the stand connection bracket (contrasted to the ground), the depth of the fixed-length arm, and the circular angle of the boom arm in the bracket. This three-way adjustable boom arm means you can get your microphone exactly where you need it with the twist of just one knob!

Stable Tripod Base

With a durable resin base and legs that securely lock into place, the MC-40 is features a super stable tripod base. What's more, in the unlikely event that any one of the legs should break, all three legs are detachable and field replaceable!

Quick-release Clutch

Many price-competitive mic stands offer noisy clutch systems that are hard to tighten and release. The MC-40 clutch is super quiet, reliable, and impressively easy to tighten and release – which is a nice feature in the middle of a gig when you have to make adjustments quickly, or when a lot of different people are using the same mic stand in the same show.

CLASSIC-SERIES

Innovation and strength are the two cornerstones on which Ultimate Support has built their reputation. The Classic Series microphone stands not only deliver features such as a quick-release, quiet, and reliable clutch, built-in cable management clips, and super stable bases, but they're competitively priced with mic stands that, well, simply don't stand up (pun intended). The MC-40 and MC-05 microphone stands are the finest professional mic stands you can find at entry-level mic stand prices.
